Leadership Opportunities and Challenges in Implementing the President's HR Agenda

The Chicago Federal Executive Board and Effective Organizations are pleased to invite you to their third Fall Forum tailored specifically to the needs of federal executives.

Interact with Dynamic Speakers

Our speakers will provide a variety of perspectives on the workforce challenges common to both the private and public sector and discuss how his/her organization is dealing with them.

Comments from last Fall's Attendees

"This forum was very informative and engaging. Great for regional office heads and executives."

"Very informative. An obvious professional who communicates in an engaging and lively fashion."

"Excellent Briefing!"

"The facility is very well situated for a retreat atmosphere."

Effective Organizations is an industrial Organizational Psychology consulting firm that helps executives improve the planning and management of organizational structures, functions, and processes. We also provide executive coaching, management training, and professional development.

Tom Fox. Senior Program Manager, Partnership for Public Service. Mr. Fox will discuss the partnership's workforce management initiatives, as well as private sector approaches to shared HR challenges. Mr. Fox has experience in the executive and legislative branches of government, including the GAO, the U.S. Senate, and the White House. Prior to joining the Partnership, Mr. Fox was a Senior Consultant with Andersen, providing strategic human capital and workforce planning support to government clients. Mr. Fox holds a graduate degree from Georgetown University's Public Policy Institute.

Michael J. McAuley. National Counsel for the NTEU. Mr. McAuley will discuss the impact of the President's Management Agenda on labor management relations. Mr. McAuley works exclusively on federal labor/management matters for the NTEU. He has handled numerous cases at arbitration and before the Federal Labor Relations Authority (NLRA), Federal Service Impasse Panel (FSIP), Merit Systems Protection Board (MSPB), and Equal Employment Opportunity Commission (EEOC), as well as in federal courts. He served as Union Co-chair of the American Bar Association's Section of Labor and Employment Law, Committee on Federal Service Labor Management Relations. He is a member of the bar in three states. He is a graduate of Georgetown University and Union University Albany Law School. Mr. McAuley has also served as an Adjunct Professor at Chicago-Kent College of Law.

Professor James Thompson. Director of Graduate Studies, Public Administration Program, University of Illinois-Chicago. Professor Thompson will discuss pay banding, including the new DoD and DHS systems, pay for performance, and nonstandard work arrangements. Following his presentation, Professor Thompson will facilitate discussion groups on these and related topics. Professor Thompson has expertise in Human Resource Management and in Organizational Change and Reform in the public sector. He is also a former public sector manager. His many publications include The Blended Workforce: Maximizing Agility through Nonstandard Work Arrangements, The Civil Service under Clinton, and Reinvention as Reform: Assessing the National Performance Review, for which he won the Mosher award.

Kevin Mahoney. Office of Personnel Management, Washington, D.C. Mr. Mahoney is the Deputy Associate Director for the Center for General Government, Human Capital Leadership and Merit System Accountability Division. Mr. Mahoney's Center is also responsible for leading the Talent Management initiative government wide as part of the President's Management Agenda. Prior to his experience with OPM, Mr. Mahoney was in executive recruitment and has served as the Vice-President for HR for Borders.

The Chicago FEB is one of 28 FEBs established to provide closer coordination among federal agencies outside Washington, D.C. It is an important hub for all government activity in the Chicago metropolitan area. Jan Stinson is its Executive Director.
